

NASA HPOSS — Reference Links

High Priority Open-Source Science Program

This document provides official NASA links relevant to the HPOSS submission, including program descriptions, ROSES guidance, and open-science resources.

HPOSS Program Information

- NASA High Priority Open-Source Science (HPOSS)
<https://science.nasa.gov/researchers/openscience/hposs/>
 - HPOSS Program Overview (NASA SMD)
<https://science.nasa.gov/open-science/hposs/>
-

ROSES Guidance and Submission Requirements

- ROSES — Research Opportunities in Space and Earth Sciences
<https://solicitation.nasaprs.com/ROSES>
 - ROSES Proposal Submission Instructions
<https://science.nasa.gov/researchers/rozes-proposal-submission/>
 - NASA Guidebook for Proposers
<https://www.nasa.gov/wp-content/uploads/2023/09/guidebook-for-proposers.pdf>
-

NASA Open-Science Resources

- NASA Open-Source Science Initiative (OSSI)
<https://science.nasa.gov/open-science/>
 - Transform to Open Science (TOPS)
<https://science.nasa.gov/open-science/transform-to-open-science/>
 - NASA Open-Source Software Catalog
<https://software.nasa.gov/>
-

Submission Portals

- NSPIRES — NASA Solicitation and Proposal System
<https://nspires.nasaprs.com/>
 - Grants.gov (alternate submission portal)
<https://www.grants.gov/>
-

Notes

These links provide the authoritative guidance for HPOSS proposal preparation, submission, and compliance. They are included here for reviewer convenience and to support transparency in the proposal development process.