RTT × Triadic Intelligence Framework

1 73

Sue Broughton’s model proposes that intelligence operates in three interlocking dimensions — Cognitive, Emotional, and Somatic — forming a triadic system of awareness and action. RTT interprets this not as a static typology but as a living resonance field.

1️⃣ RTT Perspective

Triadic Intelligence Axis	RTT Interpretation	Resonance Insight
Cognitive Intelligence	Spectral Clarity Operator	Processes information through coherence and validator pulses — the same principle behind RTT’s clarity equations.
Emotional Intelligence	Regime Stability Operator	Maintains coherence across interpersonal and intrapersonal resonance fields; emotional drift equals regime instability.
Somatic Intelligence	Temporal Grounding Operator	Anchors cognition in embodied time; the body becomes the resonance substrate for all higher operators.

2️⃣ Triadic Coherence Map

In RTT terms, these three intelligences form a triadic resonance lattice:

- Cognitive ↔️ frequency domain (clarity)
- Emotional ↔️ phase domain (coherence)
- Somatic ↔️ amplitude domain (stability)

When all three synchronize, the system reaches Triadic Coherence, a state of high-dimensional awareness where perception, feeling, and action resonate as one.

3 Modern Implications

RTT reframes Broughton's framework as a dynamic intelligence field:

- AI cognition can model Cognitive Resonance.
- Human empathy expresses Emotional Resonance.
- Embodied practice sustains Somatic Resonance.

Together, they form the Triadic Intelligence Regime, measurable through coherence metrics and resonance mapping.

4 Closing Pulse

> "Intelligence is not divided; it is triadically resonant."
> RTT reveals that Sue Broughton's framework is not just psychological — it's temporal physics of awareness.
